Lake St. Clair Island Chain Plan Draws Approval From Many Quarters

NEW ISLANDS

The bandwagon promoting an idea to build a chain of islands in Lake St. Clair is getting crowded, but when it will get rolling and how far is anybody's guess.

Detroit's City Plan Commission, the State Conservation Commission and U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Michigan, have all indicated an interest in the proposal set forth last year by Paul Lutzner.

Each agrees extensive studies would be required, however, before a decision could be made on whether and how to implement the plan.

The proposed chain of 20 islands might well fall to the federal government, Lutzner said, because Lake St. Clair is an international body of water.

The plan for the islands could well emphasize the international character by giving the recreational facilities proposed themselves from other lands. Lutzner's ideas included a Tyrol garden on one island, similar to the giant amusement spot in Copenhagen, Denmark; an oriental island with Japanese cherry trees and a tea garden; one with Dutch windmills, tulip fields, and canals; or similar German, Polish, French, Irish or Italian themes.

Scores of recreational facilities could be incorporated into the island chain. These would include bathing beaches, marinas, nature trails, riding stables, picnic tables, ice fishing areas, and others, Lutzner said.

One of the main advantages of the idea, according to its author, is the flexible time schedule.

"If started at once, an island could be created each year for the next 20 years," Lutzner said. "If the leisure-time requirements of the area demanded it, the job could be done in 10 years, or five."

What is needed now is just what Hart, the Conservation Dept. and Detroit area civic leaders are discussing: studies by competent engineers, planners, and conservation experts.

TOURIST BUSINESS GAINS

Improved economic conditions, new highways, and increased motel and resort facilities throughout the state gave Michigan its best tourist year in history during 1962. State Tourist Council Director Robert J. Furlong said these and increased promotional activities helped induce vacation travelers in Michigan to spend more than $630 million last year. This was a 5 to 7 percent increase over the industry's business in 1961.

"This increase is especially significant because Michigan's annual income from tourism had remained at about the $650 million level since 1958 while many competing states were recording increases," Furlong said.

The improved highway system plays a major role in the tourist industry, said Furlong.

"The greater capacity of freeways for traffic volumes, speed and safety means these limited access highways are drawing travelers from some of the older routes," he said. "This can be quite beneficial to communities close to the freeways, while less conveniently located areas may lose some 'pass-through' business."

Several communities are counteracting the traffic pattern shifts by stepping up their promotional efforts to attract tourists, the Council director noted. "With adequate informational signs, our highways will continue to encourage even more recreational travel."

AID UNDERSTANDING

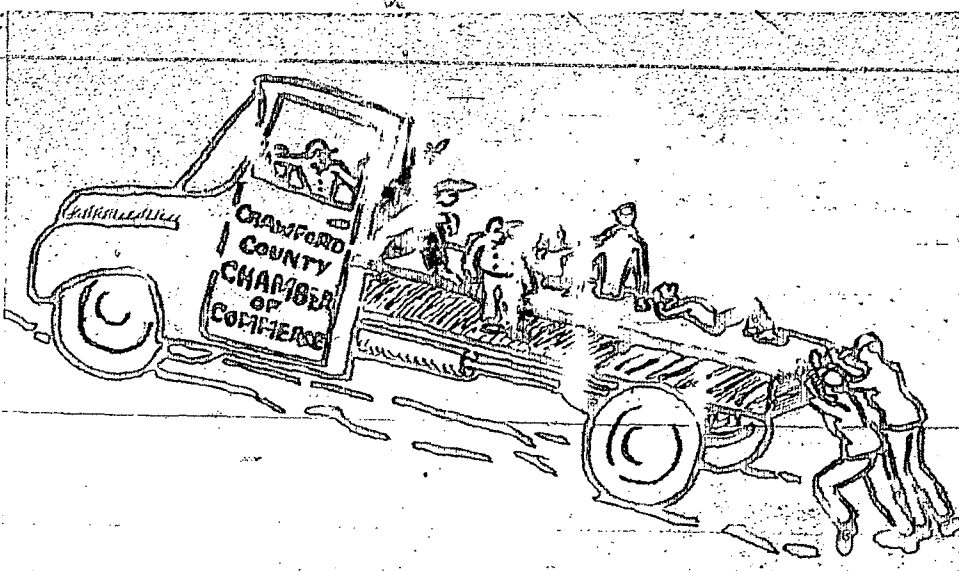

A group of newspaper officials have been enlisted in the attempt to familiarize Michigan citizens with the content of the proposed Constitution, which will be voted on April 1st.

Ink White, St. Johns editor, who served in the Constitutional Convention, is continuing as head of the Convention's public information committee. He has gained support from newsmen representing 14 areas.

The group, headed by White, plans to help coordinate the presentation of information about the new document in Michigan newspapers before the voters pass judgment on it.

The newsmen participating on the committee, some representing daily papers and others weeklies, are spread throughout the state. They represent the Tecumseh Herald, Manistique Pioneer Tribune, Gaylord Herald-Times, Monroe Evening News, Coldwater Daily Reporter, Croswell Jeffersonian, Wayland Globe, Midland Daily News, Brown City Banner, Petoskey News-Review, Standish Independent, Fremont Times-Indicator, and West Side Courier, in Detroit.

Grayling, Michigan, Thursday, January 31, 1963

The New Constitution . . .

On April 1st of this year, the voters of the State of Michigan are to vote on the approval or disapproval of a proposed State Constitution at the Biennial Spring Election.

The pros and cons on the new document have been flying thick and fast and group after group by official and unofficial action have put themselves on the line in favor or against this new book of principals of government under which to live.

More or less, the division on thinking on the issue seems to split on party line with Republicans favoring it and the Democratic party against it.

When the Constitutional Convention was proposed, we editorialized against, feeling that we could change the old document to fit our needs without the huge outlay of money that was necessary to bring us to the present time. At that time we said that probably the Convention would be held, a new Constitution drawn up and then the people would vote it down and thousands upon thousands of tax dollars would have gone down the drain for nothing.

We see it a little differently now. We feel, the people of Michigan may very well approve the new Constitution, but . . . let us give you the thoughts of another man:

"I confess that there are several parts of this Constitution which I do not at present approve but I am not sure I shall never approve them: for, having lived long, I have experienced many instances of being obliged, by better information or fuller consideration, to change opinions even on important subjects which I once thought right but found to be otherwise. It is, therefore, that the older I grow, the more apt I am to doubt my own judgement, and to pay more respect to the judgement of others."

"I doubt too whether any other convention we can obtain may be able to make a better constitution . . . on the whole, sir, I cannot help expressing a wish that every member of the convention who may still have objections to it would, with me, on this occasion doubt a little of his own infallibility—and, to make manifest our unanimity, put his name to this instrument."

—BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE CONVENTION WHICH WROTE THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES IN 1787.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

February 1, 1940

Next Sunday promises to be the biggest winter sports day in the history of Grayling. Nothing but unfavorable weather can possibly stop it, and at the present time good weather is assured. Saturday evening the Queen's Ball will be held at the high school gymnasium. Here Charles Gehring will have a prominent part in the carnival program when he will be called upon to preside at the coronation ceremonies. Throughout the days of the carnival there will be a lot of activity at the winter park. Everything will be in operation. The new 1940 ice throne is going to be a surprise to everyone who hasn't seen it. Leave it to Clarence Johnson and Johnny Decker to see to it that Grayling will have a throne that will be outstanding in beauty and design. Here again, Queen Norberta Weiss will be crowned, by Jimmy Stevenson, famed news and sports announcer at WJR, Detroit, for the pleasure of the thousands who will be at the park that day.

Friday and Saturday nights the Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament came to a close when the semi-finals and the finals were run off at the school gymnasium. The tournament as in other years has been sponsored by the Ruth Babbitt Chapter of the Izaak Walton League of Grayling. Tony Trudeau as chairman, was appointed after Jack Wade had to leave, expecting to be gone for the rest of the winter.

Russell Robertson is driving a brand new special deluxe Chevrolet town sedan, purchased from Alfred Hanson.

Miss Helen Brady of Lansing spent the weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brady. Mrs. Eugene Papendick visited her father in Fife Lake Sunday. She accompanied her uncle, Bryan Newell.

Several members of the Buick Motor Car Co., of Flint, have written Jesse Schoonover, the local Buick dealer, saying that they will come to Grayling Friday and while here desire to meet a lot of our Grayling citizens. They intend to take pictures of some of our local sights, probably for the purpose of using them in some of their Buick advertising.

Tuesday, January 30th, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sorenson celebrated their sixth wedding anniversary. About 20 of their friends gathered and a sleigh ride was enjoyed. The party ended up at the Bernard Brady cottage at Lake Margrethe where hot chili and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schaible were honor guests at a party at their home Wednesday evening. The occasion was to celebrate the 28th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Schaible and the birthday anniversary of Mr. Schaible. Miss Beverly Schaible was hostess, and was assisted by Mrs. Ernest Larson and Mrs. John Erkes. About 37 were present and the evening was spent playing pinocle and Chinese checkers. George Hilton received honor score for the men and Mrs. A. L. Roberts and Mrs. Earl Wood for the women, for pinocle, and Mrs. Phil Moran for Chinese checkers. Two beautiful cakes graced the lunch table, one a large anniversary cake decorated in rainbow colors with 28 candles, and the other a birthday cake also prettily decorated. Mr. and Mrs. Schaible were presented an occasional table from the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Holger Hanson of Saginaw spent the weekend visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Marie Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burke and Sidney Noble of Toledo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Larson over the weekend. Genevieve Witkowski came on the snow train from Detroit Sunday and spent the afternoon visiting her sister, Mrs. Joseph Kasper and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Souders entertained the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Van Norman and son Jack of Sandusky, Michigan, over the weekend. They enjoyed the winter sports at the Grayling winter park.

Miss Faith Nobel of Rogers City was the guest of Joseph Stripe over Sunday. Wednesday, January 31st, has been the warmest and coldest day of this week. At 2 a.m. the temperature registered 10 below zero and in the afternoon it had climbed to 30 above. The other mornings the thermometer has registered around 3 and 4 above. Sunday was an ideal day for the winter sports park as the mercury stayed around freezing all day, with the sun coming out later in the afternoon. This morning, Thursday, at 8 a.m. the mercury stood at 28 above and slowly rising, with a light rain coming down, later changing to snow. It has snowed every day this week, even though it has been very little on some days.

Miss Yvonne Bradley tops the girls at the Winter Sports Park for skating. She cuts a pretty figure and is very clever and graceful on the ice, and it's a treat to watch her perform. The young miss tells us that she hopes this summer to go to the Olympia in Detroit to take some lessons in skating. Who knows, maybe we have a Sonja Henie in our midst. What Miss Yvonne knows about skating she says she picked up herself, having skated since she was a tiny tot, except of late she says has been getting some nice tips from skaters who come to the park from Ontario and other places, that help a lot.

Don Gothro enjoyed a vacation from his duties at the local bank last week and spent the time visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert Bousinger, in Lansing. Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Peterson and daughter Virginia left Tuesday to spend a month at Clearwater, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Esbern Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hanson were hosts at a very delightful dinner for the ladies and gentlemen of their bridge club Tuesday. Large bouquets of snapdragons, irises, stock, gladioli and roses added to the loveliness of the affair. Five tables of bridge were in play throughout the evening. Mrs. A. J. Joseph and O. P. Schumann held high scores.

Home Extension Group No. 4 met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bernard Brady. The lesson on block printing was given by Mrs. Carl Hanson and Mrs. John Mallinger, the leaders of the group. The hostess served lunch.

46 YEARS AGO

February 1, 1917

Members of the Michigan Fish Commission, the Senate Fish Committee and the House Fish Committee, made an official visit to the Grayling hatchery Saturday. They arrived in the Fish Commission car at 12:55 a.m. Some of the officers of the Hatchery club met the visitors and an informal reception was held at the Social club rooms, after which the hatchery was visited. Supt. Zalsman was on the job, as usual, and acted as the guide. The visiting committees were given a banquet at Shoppenagons Inn at noon, by the local officers of the Grayling Hatchery club; Rasmus Hanson, president; and Marius Hanson, secretary and treasurer.

At an invitation from the members of the Loyal Order of Moose, their wives and friends accepted the privilege of spending an afternoon at their clubrooms last week Thursday. About 45 ladies were present. The afternoons are spent socially. This will be limited to members' wives only as the ladies wish to form a permanent organization at this time and elect officers and committees.

Miss Mabel Ketzbeck has resigned her position at the Holiday Bazaar.

Miss Josephine Randolph of Toledo is visiting her brother, William Randolph and family on the south side.

Among the autos purchased by local parties at the Detroit auto show last week were a Coles car by T. W. Hanson and Oldsmobiles by A. M. Lewis and Fred Welch.

McGuire DuPre has traded his property here with Walmer Jorgenson for property in Bay City and will move his family there in the near future.

William Raue, head bookkeeper for the Salling Hanson Co., will be manager of the Johnnesburg Manufacturing company at Johnnesburg, which position is made vacant by the resignation of Frank Michelson. Mr. and Mrs. Raue will move there in the near future. Mr. Michelson is located in Detroit Home Company.

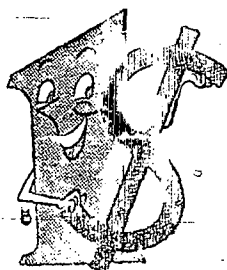

There was a quiet and simple wedding at the home of the bride at six o'clock Friday evening when Mrs. Christine Ness became the wife of Christian Johnson. Only the near relatives of the couple were present. Mrs. Ness has lived in Grayling for about 11 years and is well known. Mr. Johnson has been engaged in several capacities with Salling, Hanson company and of late years as camp foreman. They left Saturday afternoon on a short wedding trip to Manistee and other places.

DANISH VISITORS LEAVE FOR HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Frederiksen left Monday morning in company with their brother, Alfred Hanson, for Detroit, where they enjoyed a late afternoon dinner and visit as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Viggo Mikkelsen before boarding their plane to make the return trip to their home in Nykøbing, Falster, Denmark. They were to travel a gain by jet, leaving Detroit about 6 o'clock in the evening, and arriving at Copenhagen at shortly after noon, or about 7 in the morning of six hours between here and Denmark going east. The flight time included a two-hour stopover in London.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederiksen and Mr. Hanson returned to his home here Wednesday night last week after a tour of the country which took them to Key West, Florida, down the west side of the state and back up the east side, returning by way of Virginia and Pennsylvania. While in Florida they called on Sam Rasmussen at Lake Wales.

The Frederiksens' nineteenth wedding anniversary rolled a round while they were in Florida. To celebrate the event, Mr. and Eric Post entertained in honor of the Frederiksens on Saturday night, Jan. 26. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weiss entertained with a farewell dinner in honor of the Danish couple. Mr. and Mrs. Post provided a smorgasbord dinner at West Branch during the earlier part of the Frederiksens' visit. Mrs. Wilhelm Raas entertained in their honor with a New Year's Day dinner, and on last Friday with an afternoon coffee for twelve Danish-speaking friends. The refreshment table was centered with red and white carnations, the Danish national flower and national colors. Mrs. Frederiksen was presented with a corsage of the same blooms.

Grayling P.T.A. HOLDS MEETING

At the January meeting of the Grayling P.T.A. Monday night, Mr. Fenton announced that 93.1 percent of the parents contacted, at the P.T.A. Conference in November. Because of the cooperation of parents and teachers and the favorable comment following these initial conferences, another one has been scheduled for this semester, probably in April.

President Wert announced that the February meeting would be held on February 18th, rather than on the 25th, due to a previously scheduled meeting.

The program for the evening was entitled "Putting Purpose Into Children's Lives." It was given by a group of teachers of the elementary grades. Mr. Wert first introduced Mrs. Emil Giegling, who explained that education has changed greatly in concept within the last 20 years. No longer are the old standards of reading, writing and arithmetic the final answer.

Today, teachers are striving to educate the whole child, intellectually, emotionally and physically. Their major goal is to stimulate the child to want to learn and to achieve. Mrs. Matt Edson, First Grade, spoke on the experiences of young children. Experiences are gained through the home, the church, and the school.

Many activities that are taken to the children are the result of experiences for the six-year-old. In sharing these experiences with him, much is to be learned, and sharing will contribute to a well-rounded personality. Mrs. Tom Robertson, Second Grade, read a few examples of themes written by Sixth Graders on such topics as "What I Want to Be When I Grow Up," "What Three Wishes," "Three Themes Showed Clearly that the home, the school and the church were undoubtedly the strong motivating forces in our children's lives. Mrs. Robert Boice, Fifth Grade, asked each parent three questions, "Are the Goals That You Set for Your Children Realistic or Are They Abnormally High or Low?" "Do Your Children Have Too Much Given Them or Do They Work For What They Want?" "Do Your Children Really Strive to Do Their Best or Do They Just Get By?" She also summarized a recent article from the Saturday Evening Post by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in which he urged parents to instill in their children the ambition to excel in whatever they undertook to do, and he stressed that schools cannot take the place of home and church in teaching moral values and ideals.

The goal of the P.T.A. is better understanding and cooperation between home, school and the community. Let us as parents do our part in helping our children reach their highest potential.

Following the program, the P.T.A. voted to back the exchange student program with a pledge. After adjournment, coffee and doughnuts were served by the Fifth Grade mothers, and the committee was Mrs. Don Gohr, Mrs. Floyd SanCartier and Mrs. Gerald Burns.

Local Man's Sister Wins High Honor

An article from the Shorewood, Wisconsin, "Herald" of January 10, 1963, concerns Margaret Joseph, sister of Grayling's A. J. Joseph, and states as follows: Margaret Joseph, who heads the math department at Shorewood high school, has been listed in "Leaders in American Science." The book, published on December 17th, reached the Shorewood li-brary this week.

As far as the Herald was able to learn, Miss Joseph is the only mathematician in the Milwaukee suburban area listed in the book.

Persons listed in the book were either recommended by a national scientific organization or a univer-sity. Miss Joseph has yet to learn who recommended her.

Among earlier honors attained by Miss Joseph have been election as a fellow of the American Asso-ciation for Advancement of Sci-ence. One of the requirements for election to this group is a doctor-ate and chucked Miss Joseph, "I don't have one."

But whether or not she has a doctorate, mathematics teachers throughout the state and nation recognize Miss Joseph as an out-standing teacher. Three years ago the Wisconsin Engineers' Associa-tion named her the "outstanding math teacher of Wisconsin."

The "Basic General Math" book which she co-authored with Mil-dred Keiffer, supervisor of math in Cincinnati schools, is now being revised and revisions will proba-bly be completed before the month is ended. The two math teachers are now working on solutions to be included in the revised book, which is being brought out by Prentice Hall, who also published the original edition.

In 1956, Miss Joseph was in charge of the National Convention of Teachers of Mathematics when the convention was held in Mil-waukee. To make this "among the best conventions" Miss Joseph se-cured the cooperation of the En-gineers' association. Members of the association took over math classes for teachers so that they might attend the convention, which was in session during the school term.

This June, Miss Joseph will re-tire from the Shorewood faculty, having attained the retirement age of 65; however, she will not re-tire from teaching and has been of-fered a full or part time teaching post at UW-M.

REPORT from LANSING ROSS C. STEVENS (Presque Isle District) Your State Representative

The State Legislature is under way again, and it's time to start my weekly column. This session will be quite a new experience — what, with a new Governor and many new faces in the House and Senate.

As usual, at the beginning of each two-year term, much time has been taken up composing House committees and other routine matters. Bills have now started pouring into the hopper and committees have begun to function. In fact, we already have set up a schedule for completing our work this spring. This practice is unusual. We are scheduled to finish this portion of our schedule on April 28.

Governor Romney suggested a relatively short session now and a continuation after Labor Day. This suggestion was made to permit new legislation in case the new Constitution should be approved by the voters on April 1. This procedure appears to be good. I hope a new precedent is not in the making, however.

Speaking about the new Constitution, may I state my position clearly. In general the document is good and a "yes" vote is warranted. Some parts are proposed, I do not like; others are inadequate. However, my belief is that it would be much less expensive and much easier to approve the document as is, and then work for improvements, than it would be to turn down the whole thing and then set about approving the good parts as well as trying to improve the less desirable features. After all, very capable people spent considerable time studying and preparing the new Constitution. Let's vote "yes!"

In my weekly articles of the past two years, general information on legislative methods, procedures, and current items have been outlined, and to repeat may become monotonous. Therefore, may I in future weeks give in brief some activities of past years that led me back to Michigan and eventually to become your State Representative.

Since practically all of my work from 1932 until 1952 was in connection with conservation — game, fish, forestry — many have asked why not more conservation activity in the Legislature. It's a long story.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all people at Mercy Hospital for their care and kindness during my stay there. Also all my stay there. Also all my friends and neighbors for the cards, gifts and visits. Your thoughtfulness was certainly appreciated.

Mrs. Pauline Poorman

MAN PLANS BUDGET BEFORE RETIREMENT

"MY WIFE and I will appreciate any information you can furnish us on budgeting for retirement. Here are the pertinent facts:

"I am 64. My wife is 54. We plan to retire next June. At that time my retirement income will be approximately $255. Our savings amount to only a few thousand dollars. But we have a good car, good furniture, and all our bills will be paid. Hospitalization is already assured for both of us through a paid-up insurance plan.

"It is our desire, upon our retirement, to return to our previous home near New Orleans, La. It is my intention, since I am still in excellent physical condition, to seek employment as an apartment house manager. This will cover our rental and provide money for incidental expenses.

"Are there any specific hazards you can see in our future? The man writing this letter is a good example of the long-working, conservative white-collar worker who is going into retirement in 1963. He has accumulated enough pension to see him through without charity. . . he's not too happy with where he lives and he's apprehensive over moving into a life that has no boss.

What hazards can this couple anticipate? How could their plans be improved? The husband seems to have his life on ice. With $255 a month, he faces no particular hazards, that he hasn't faced all his life—heart attacks, traffic, plagues, wars, and such. But his wife faces a serious hazard if the $255 pension is for the husband alone and provides her no income if he dies. She is 10 years younger, and her life expectancy might be seven years longer. . . which means she may have to eat and sleep for 17 years after he is gone.

How to eliminate the hazard: by converting any life insurance into an annuity that would give the wife a livable income for at least 17 years; by splitting the pension before it starts so that part of it will go to the wife for life; or by finding employment that the wife can carry on alone—and managing an apartment house just might be it.

New Orleans is one of the country's fascinating cities. It can be steamy hot, and so can most of the publicized retirement paradises. The couple can live on the outskirts quite comfortably on $255 a month, without managing an apartment, and could do the same, with a lot of company, in certain areas of Arizona, California and Florida.

But managing an apartment is a practical idea for a physically-fit couple in retirement. It doesn't have the prestige of some white-collar jobs, and there are certain to be some terrible tenants on the third floor. And all those stupid pipes in the basement. And neighborhood dogs on the lawn. And people who won't pay the rent. And window-washing. And never a vacation.

Still, retired couples do this job, seem happy at it, and frequently get a free apartment of their own plus a small cash payment for their efforts.

They have been home since New Years, and expect to be in South Carolina for two years.

Oscar Bakors Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary

Around eighty friends came to extend their good wishes and to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bakor on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration, held at the Grayling Bowhunters Club on Saturday, January 12th, from 2 o'clock to 5:30 in the afternoon. The open house was given by the Bakors' children: Thomas R. Easterday, Jr., by the late Rev. Birch Run, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker of Cllo, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Case of Grayling. The building was decorated in white, blue and gold, with gold bells and the numerals 50 in gold. The refreshment table was centered with a three-layer anniversary cake topped with bells and a gold 50, and decorated with roses and orchids.

Assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. Rene McKenzie of Gino Lake, Mrs. Plint, who served the cake, Mrs. Kenneth Baker, who poured the tea and coffee, and Mrs. Mervin town.

Baker, who served the punch. The Baker grandsons ushered guests into the hall, and Baker granddaughters took charge of the guest registration. There was a background music provided by record player. The honored couple received many lovely gifts. After 5:30 members of the family and a few close friends enjoyed a dinner at the clubhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker, former Hannah Wilson of Pine Rest, were married December 25, 1912, in St. Paul, Minn. by the late Rev. Birch Run, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker of Cllo, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Case of Grayling. They spent their home at what was long known as Baker's Corners, a few miles south of Grayling. This was their home until a couple of years ago, when the highway widening program required the use of their property, at which time they moved to their present home at Higgins Lake. Mr. Baker, now retired, was employed at Camp Grayling while living south of town.

ONE REASON why the new color film is such an outstanding fishing film is because of the fact that the photographer, Gene Little, was on a six foot stepladder, in the middle of a canoe on God's Lake in northern Manitoba. From his perch he could film big pike in the shallow water as they struck the lures. He also filmed a brook trout fishing trip on God's River and photographed the catching of No. 4 and 5 lake trout in the Field and Stream Fishing contest. The film will be shown here in Grayling on February 14th, under the sponsorship of the Grayling Sportsman's Club. Tickets are now available from most members of the Grayling Sportsman's Club and also at Grayling High School or from any member of the Grayling senior class.
